I've enjoyed all the onSkull escape rooms in desktop mode so far. Was seriously disappointed in this one having the hints not working in desktop mode. You'd think it would be an easy fix for the developers. Sad they would leave it like that.. So what is it really?

A wargame, a parody, a board game, a computer game?

I've played computer war games since 1983 and never found one I fundamentally disliked as much as this game.

It fails to show respect to history, has no fog of war, and is not even funny.

Biggest waste of my recent gaming dollars.. Finna Bust. Like very much the story of the game, also its easy to play with it. Comparitively to the other titles by this developer, it's a hair less racy, but still has all the punch. Filled with innuendos, references and a little bit of sexyness-- you'll enjoy yourself =)

Set off on your very own quest to become METAL AS ♥♥♥♥!

I bet you won't see it coming (What won't you see coming? Play and find out!)

<3 <3

... and as always, get the game pack. All the titles by this developer are fun as ♥♥♥♥ and gave me hours and hours of entertainment =). Orange Juice, please! I'm a college student, I have debts to pay and im already eating Cup Noodles every night!

If you release DLC for the game I play during my lectures, im obviously going to buy it!

Because of this it was either eat dinner (Premium cup noodle) or buy this!

And I 100% made the right decision!

10V10 will starve again for more DLC. This is a really fun game that I think people are missing out on due to not having fancy graphics.

Firstly, the sheer amount of content you're getting is great for VR. Secondly, the controls and ship mechanics are *solid*. Third, the comfort options are awesome. The biggest issue in VR right now is shallow/poorly programmed games, and I would say that Gem Hunter is an example of a well programmed game with lots of passion and nostalgia for Super Mario 64 behind it.. An indecipherable mess that barely runs on modern computers. Interesting art style, but save the money and watch a playthrough on YouTube.. Pretty not good, sadly. Too slow, hard to understand, it's not laid out very well, etc. etc. If you end up liking it though, good for you.

This is quite potentially the greatest if not one of the greatest games released on Steam.. Very simplistic shooter with very little depth or originality. Best part actually are the graphics.

It's fun to try out 5 minutes, but after 5 minutes you either got bored or finished the game.. its not gonna be for most people.

Yeah I ducking love this.

Same as most VR games these days, excellent quick pick up and play.

Its really is just duckhunt in VR and works so well, very retro feel to it.

The 8bit graphics work so well.

Price point is excellent for what it is.. Abandonware.. I have played this game twice now, just to be sure. It cannot be completed as there is always a piece missing at the end and no way to get it.. Am only part way through story mode, but am having a blast playing this. The typical high-low card matching is nicely blended in to the campy noir hard-boiled detective story. The power ups are fun and definitely necessary to get a 100% on even some of the earlier areas if you are a completist like me. Well worth $7 IMHO.
